

Fancy a Cuppa?

Recently relocated from the hustle and bustle of Exhibition Road, the T.Club is now idyllically nestled at the Lagoon on Amwaj Islands, and is a trendy alternative to all the hyped up, overrated coffee spots of Bahrain. With more than 3,000 types of tea to select, and services such as free Wi-Fi, gifts, takeaway and catering, where better to enjoy that warming, soothing cup of chai?

Some people may wonder what's so special about a cup of hot water with dry leaves, but each leaf has a story, some dating back to over 5,000 years; some myth, others fact. The T.Club recognise each strain's story and bring it to the people. From within the great wall of China, the monks of Japan and their rising sun, the cloud mountains of India, across the sea to the island of Sri Lanka and the golden plains on the southern tip of Africa.

Fayadh Al Fadhul, the owner, believes "Tea club collectively unites the stories with real life, to take you through an extraordinary experience never before witnessed in a lounge. It is an upscale tea house concept which originated in Bahrain; we are revolutionising the retail food and beverage industry by serving quality teas, pastries, sandwiches and other light meals in a very luxurious, comfortable and healthy ambience."
